New Seed for 2024

Showcasing the best new seed varieties for your garden

We pride ourselves in the heritage of our extensive seed offering, building on our range every year with the latest must-have introductions from the flower and vegetable world. This season is no different and we are pleased to showcase some of our best new intros here.

We're bringing the best of modern breeding and traditional flavours together with the introduction of Tomato Crokini F1. A new line developed in the South of France, it retains the full aroma, crisp texture and sweet flavour of heritage varieties, marrying them with modern breeding techniques for improved late blight resistance, skin split resistance and high yields of 300 sweet fruits per plant.

If space is tight in the garden or veg patch our new Sweet Pillar Sweet Trio will allow you to fill in the smallest gaps and stay productive. Alternatively, this breakthrough in pepper breeding allows for plentiful crops on windowsills too. A unique habit produces big crops of sweet mini peppers off the central stem, leading to compact upright plants, that stand up straight under the weight of their crop. The sweet flavour and vibrant colour combination are great for salads, snacking and stir-fries.

Boost your late season harvests

Again looking to boost your late season harvests, we have sweet-tasting and early cropping Butternut Squash Inca Gold F1. Traditional squashes can be slow to mature ahead of autumn weather but 'Inca Gold' is reliably ready to crop ahead of the autumn frosts and can be left to trail around the veg patch or trained to climb fences. Each colourful, thick-necked fruit weighs up to 1.2kg.

NEW Zinnia 'Macarenia'

KF2492 £2.99 (50 seeds)

HH.A. 50-75cm (25-30in). Flowers: Jul-Oct. Sun. Beds, Borders, Cutting, Pots.

We're launching Zinnia 'Macarenia' to bring a powerful burst of colour to your summer borders and patio displays. Sturdy stems reach up to 75cm, producing large fully double blooms reaching 7cm across, and are perfect for use as a cut flower in the home. Left in the garden they will also be enjoyed by bees and butterflies over a long summer flowering season.

Already popular in our potted plant range, we are pleased to now offer Poppy 'Royal Wedding' in seed form. This elegant oriental poppy is perfect for naturalising around the garden in swathes or patches and raising plants from seed is the most economical way to do it! Poppy 'Royal Wedding' is the pick of the bunch, with glistening white petals and a dark centre to each bloom. Bees and butterflies love the nectar-rich flowers and we are sure you will enjoy seeing this hardy perennial return to the garden each spring.
